

Weekend Fire Takes out Local Resurant

This weekend local favorite Annie's Burgertown burned down. No one was inside, but repairs will be costly. We have no news on the investagation, but we do have some theories.

Worrying Wires

It is possible that faulty wiring was the culprit, as a witness commented,"I saw a spark from the back, then a loud explosion, I was frozen for a moment before I called 911."

Nefarious Naughties

It is also possible that more dangerous elements are at play here. Local hippie says,"Bro, I swear I saw some people back there. Like, we all knew that Annie's was a money maker."
